Sailboat Card for Father's Day

Contributed by Leanne Guenther

Good shapes and colors practice.

Poem to write on the bottom of the boat:

"I'd sail the seven seas for you, Daddy!"

or

"I'd sail the seven seas for you, Grandpa!"

You can glue this to the front of a construction paper card or as a "gift tag" on a wrapped present. The bottom of the boat unfolds to reveal a hidden message.

Instructions:

- Have the child trace a small plate (dessert plate) on a piece of construction paper.
- Cut out the circle (adult assistance may be required).
- Fold the circle in half.
  - A message can be written inside.
  - on the outside, write, "I'd sail the seven seas for you, Daddy!"

- Have the child cut a long strip of black construction paper (or use a popsicle stick) for the mast
- Make the sails one of two ways:
  - make a two fingerpaint handprints on contrasting colored construction paper. Cut out a rough triangle shape around the handprints

OR.

- Trace two hands onto a piece of construction paper. Cut out and glue to a contrasting triangle of construction paper
